Y4 History

Y4 have been learning about the reasons the Romans came and how they have impacted British society. We really loved our lesson on Hadrian's wall and finding out what life on the wall would have been like. There is evidence that soldiers came from all over the Roman Empire including North Africa. We built a section of the wall in the playground using pictures of the milecastles, turrets and forts.

London Fields at Tate Britain!

Artist Steve McQueen has set up an exciting new project looking at issues of identity. He wants to explore the identity of London and so has contacted all schools in London to photograph their Year 3 classes. All these photos will then be displayed in Tate Britain to illustrate the cultural diversity and identity of London. And London Fields will be one of those schools! The photographer came from Tate Britain this week to talk to the children about portrait photography and take their year group picture—just like the one above of Steve McQueen's class back in 1976. It will be so exciting to see the exhibition next year.

Y1 Geography

We have been finding out about Hackney, London, the U.K, Europe and the world. We have been finding similarities and differences in between the countryside, cities and coastal areas. We have also been exploring the weather and reading maps. We even had a go at being weather presenters!

Missing coat!

A coat like this has gone missing—has your child taken it home by mistake? Could you please check and bring it back to the office if you find it. Thanks.

Class names...Akala class

Akala (Real name Kingslee James Daley) is a poet, rapper, musician and political activist from London. He is from a musical family- his sister is also a performer, stage name- Ms Dynamite. His stage name 'Akala' comes from the Buddhist term meaning 'Immovable'. He has appeared on countless TV and Radio debates, promoting equality and fairness in our society.
